

- 15 -

ABSTRACT:

A recognition process for handwritten characters, including generating sub-segments representing at least one character stroke, the sub-segments each having a boundary enclosing the at least one stroke of the sub-segment, merging the sub-segments when the distance between centroids of the sub-segments are less than a predetermined threshold, and generating segments representing possible characters from the sub-segments.

10

20001130 10:41 FAX 3240922 K.T.LIM & COMPANY FAX3A257919142A * Pg 21/27